Authority: O.C.G.A. §§ 40-1-54; 40-1-57

570-38-1-.05 ADOPTION OF FEDERAL MOTOR CARRIER SAFETY RULES

- (1) Except to the extent modified by this Rule or otherwise in accordance with the Department’s authority under state and federal law, the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations issued by the United States Department of Transportation’s Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (hereinafter “FMCSA”), contained in Parts 350, 376, 382, 383, and 390 through 397 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, as now in force and as hereafter amended (hereinafter “the Federal Safety Rules”), are by this Rule made Rules of the Department under this Subchapter for all carriers regulated by this Department.
- (2) The Department shall enforce such Federal Safety Rules and cooperate with other State and local law enforcement agencies in doing so to the extent such Federal Safety Rules are applicable to carriers regulated by the Department. These Federal Safety Rules are prescribed by the FMCSA as minimum standards for observance and enforcement by cooperating State agencies, and the individual states such as Georgia cannot promulgate less stringent motor carrier safety rules.
- (3) Due to the volume of such Federal Safety Rules and to the frequent changes made therein by the FMCSA and because the FMCSA publishes and makes readily available such Federal Motor Carrier Safety Rules at minimal cost, the Department will not reproduce such Federal Safety Rules here. Current copies of the above-referenced and adopted Federal Motor Carrier Safety Rules may be obtained from the FMCSA in Washington, D.C., from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. 20402, or from local U.S. Government Bookstores in the Atlanta area. In addition, such Federal Motor Carrier Safety Rules may be accessed on-line at the FMSCA website.
- (4) The Department may undertake to adopt motor carrier safety rules more stringent than such Federal Safety Rules. In accordance with O.C.G.A. § 40-1-8(c)(1), the Department may promulgate these rules by administrative order and publish the same in the Department’s “Transportation Rulebook” or elsewhere. Such Rules will be available for inspection by the public on the Department’s website either as a part of the Department’s Transportation Rulebook or otherwise.
- (5) In the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations adopted by reference in this Rule and applicable throughout this Chapter, any reference to the “Operations Manager” and/or “Associate Administrator, Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration,” shall be interpreted to mean Commissioner, Georgia Department of Public Safety, except insofar as the term relates to preemption. All references to “interstate” commerce in the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations adopted hereby shall be interpreted for the purposes of this Chapter to mean “intrastate” commerce in Georgia. It is the intent of the Department that the Rules of this Chapter and rules, regulations, and orders promulgated in accordance with this Chapter (including its motor carrier safety rules) shall apply only to intrastate carriers and operations.

Authority: O.C.G.A. §§ 40-1-8; 40-1-54

570-38-1-.06 COMPLAINTS

- (1) The Department may hear a complaint by a third party regarding entities or matters within the jurisdiction or regulatory authority of the section, including any person or entity subject to regulation by this Chapter, asserting that an applicant or carrier has violated the provisions of this Chapter, any other Transportation Rules issued by the Department, or any provision of Georgia law relating to any matter within the jurisdiction of the Section or the Department.
- (2) The Department shall require that, before investigating, imposing any penalty as a result of, or otherwise acting upon any such complaint, complaints under this Rule be submitted in writing on a form or forms designated for that purpose by the Department with a plain and distinct description of the grounds of the complaint.
- (3) When requested by the Department, responses to complaints must be in writing with a plain and distinct description of any defense to the complaint.

 - (c) A complaint the basis of which is currently pending or in litigation; or
 - (d) A complaint the basis of which alleges theft; such matters will be referred to the appropriate law enforcement agency for investigation.
 - (e) A complaint that was not made within a reasonably timely manner, which shall in no event exceed 90 days from the date of the events giving rise to the complaint.
- (6) After investigating a complaint made in accordance with this Rule, the Department shall issue a decision with respect to such complaint. Such decisions may impose upon carriers any penalties and seek any remedies the Department is entitled by law to impose or seek. When notice and hearing is required by law or when the Department otherwise determines that notice and hearing are appropriate, a decision shall not be issued until the appropriate notice and hearing requirements have been met. If no specific notice and hearing requirements exist with respect to a specific complaint or decision and the Department intends to impose notice and hearing requirements, those requirements shall be communicated to the complainant, complained-upon carrier, and any other necessary party.
- (7) Paragraph (6) of this Rule notwithstanding, the Department may also impose penalties and seek remedies without notice or a hearing to the extent authorized by law if it finds that the health or safety of the public or a particular member or member(s) of the public would be unreasonably placed at risk if such remedies or penalties were to be delayed by notice or hearing. In such cases the Department must issue specific findings of facts and/or conclusions of law relating to its finding of undue risk to the health or safety of the public or a particular member or member(s) of the public.

- (8) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this Rule, the Department shall have the discretion to accept a consent agreement in resolution of a claim or complaint by a party against a carrier, including but not limited to agreements in which a carrier agrees to refund a customer for charges or offers payment for lost or damaged property in lieu of other regulatory or enforcement action by the Department.

570-38-3-.05 LIMITATIONS AND RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSPORTATION OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS AND ANCILLARY SERVICES

(1) Packing and Inspection of Articles and Packages

- (a) Except as otherwise provided by this paragraph, articles tendered for transportation must be in such condition and so prepared for shipment by the customer or the customer's agent as to comply with the requirements and limitations of these Rules and as to render transportation thereof reasonably safe and practicable.
- (b) Except where otherwise provided by law or these Rules or to the extent a carrier and customer have otherwise agreed, customers shall be responsible for preparing and packing all small household goods of less than one cubic foot displacement into boxes, packages, cartons, or other containers of sufficient size and strength to make loading, transportation, and unloading of such goods and containers reasonably safe and practicable. Customers who have prepared and/or packed articles for transportation or arranged for a person or entity other than the carrier providing transportation in accordance with these Rules to prepare and/or pack articles for transportation shall cause boxes, packages, or cartons to be properly identified and marked with the general contents when such contents are not otherwise readily apparent.
- (c) Articles that are required to be prepared and packed in a container shall be securely enclosed in such container by the person(s) preparing and packing the container so that no ends or other parts protrude and in a manner that will provide reasonable protection from damage to or loss of such articles.
- (d) Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph notwithstanding, a household goods carrier may offer to prepare and pack a customer's articles for transportation and may charge a customer for such service in accordance with the Department's maximum rate tariff. A household goods carrier may also provide and sell to customers packaging materials and shipping containers in accordance with the Department's maximum rate tariff. Shipping containers offered for sale in accordance with this Rule shall be marked with the dimensions and capacity of the container, shall be clean and in good condition for transportation, and shall be of sufficient strength for their intended purpose with a bursting strength of no less than 200 pound test.

- (e) When a household goods carrier or its authorized representative determine that it is necessary to inspect an article or the contents of any article said carrier has been requested to transport in order to determine the nature of such article or the contents of such article, the carrier shall be entitled to conduct such inspection prior to transporting the article in question. In the event such inspection is not possible or feasible, the carrier may require that other evidence be provided which demonstrates the actual character of the article or contents of the article in question. A carrier shall not be required to transport or perform any services relating to an article for which a requested inspection cannot be performed or is refused or for which insufficient evidence demonstrating the actual character of the article or contents of the article in question is provided.
- (f) Unless otherwise provided by law, these Rules, or the agreement of the customer and the carrier, a carrier is not obligated to transport any articles that the customer was obligated to prepare or pack for transportation if said customer has not properly prepared or packed such articles in a manner that will provide reasonable protection for such articles from damage or loss and provide for reasonably safe transportation of such articles.

(2) Transportation of Goods Likely to Cause Damage

Notwithstanding the requirements of Rule 570-38-3-.03 and any duty established thereby,

- (a) No household goods carrier shall be required to accept for shipment any articles which are reasonably likely to damage the carrier's equipment or other property;
- (b) No household goods carrier shall be required to perform pickup or delivery or render any services at a place or places from or to which it is impracticable to operate vehicles because of the condition of roads, streets, driveways, alleys, or approaches thereto, inadequate loading or unloading facilities, or any other reason not caused by the action or inaction of the carrier; and
- (c) No household goods carrier shall accept for shipment any articles which cannot be removed from the premises at which they are located without damage to the articles or the premises.

(3) Impossible or Impractical Delivery; Delivery Contingent Upon Payment

- (a) A carrier shall make reasonable efforts to ascertain the characteristics and accessibility of each point of origin, delivery location, and the articles comprising a shipment to determine the possibility, practicability, and labor required for loading, transportation, and unloading of such articles. Such efforts shall be made prior to providing an estimate or bill of lading to a customer and prior to performing any transportation or ancillary services. A carrier that fails to make such efforts but nevertheless provides transportation or ancillary services to a customer shall not be entitled to charge a customer for any ancillary services in accordance with this paragraph but shall be obligated to complete loading, transportation, and unloading of the customer's shipment as agreed and without additional charge to the extent such loading, transportation, and unloading is possible. To the extent such loading, transportation, and unloading is not possible, the carrier may take other actions in accordance with subparagraphs (b) and (c) of this paragraph, but shall not be entitled to charge a customer for any such actions taken or services provided.
- (b) In the event a household goods carrier determines after complying with its duty under subparagraph (a) of this paragraph or arrives at a point of origin and determines that loading of some or all of the articles of the shipment directly from the point of origin to the transporting vehicle is physically impractical, impossible, or will require additional labor due to inaccessibility of the building, its structure, the nature of an article or articles included with the shipment, the carrier may:

1. Decline to load those articles for which loading is impossible or impractical and otherwise complete loading as agreed;
 2. Decline to provide or reschedule transportation or ancillary services, in which case the customer shall be refunded for any services not utilized;
 3. If (1) the carrier has complied with subparagraph (a) of this paragraph; (2) the carrier is capable of doing so; and (3) the customer so agrees, load the affected articles by ancillary means, in which case the carrier will be authorized to charge the customer for any such ancillary services in accordance with these Rules and the Department's maximum rate tariff.
 4. Resolve the matter by any other agreement mutually acceptable to the carrier and the customer.
- (c) In the event a household goods carrier determines after complying with its duty under subparagraph (a) of this paragraph or transports a shipment to a destination address in accordance with these Rules and determines that delivery of some or all of the articles of the shipment directly from the transporting vehicle to the destination is physically impractical, impossible, or will require additional labor due to inaccessibility of the building, its structure, the nature of an article or articles included with the shipment, the carrier may:
1. Deliver the portion of the shipment for which delivery is physically impractical or impossible to its warehouse or the warehouse of a designee in accordance with the provisions of Rule 570-38-3-.10;
 2. Deliver the portion of the shipment for which delivery is physically impractical or impossible to the nearest point of approach to the customer's desired location; or
 3. If (1) the carrier has complied with subparagraph (a) of this paragraph; (2) the carrier is capable of doing so; and (3) the customer so agrees, complete delivery to the desired location by ancillary means from the transporting vehicle to the customer's desired location, in which case the carrier will be authorized to charge the customer for any such ancillary delivery and services in accordance with these Rules and the Department's maximum rate tariff.
 4. Resolve the matter by any other agreement mutually acceptable to the carrier and the customer.
- (d) In the event a household goods carrier transports a shipment to a destination address in accordance with these Rules and determines that a customer is unable or unwilling to pay or arrange for payment in accordance with the requirements of these Rules before the carrier completes delivery or relinquishes possession of the articles it transported, the carrier may take the actions described in paragraph (2) of Rule 570-38-3-.15.

(4) Hoisting Service

For the purposes of this paragraph, the term "hoisting service" means a service by which a load is lifted and/or lowered by means of a drum or lift-wheel around which one or more ropes, chains, cables, or similar instrumentalities are wrapped, regardless of the means by which such device is operated. The following regulations shall apply with respect to hoisting services:

- (a) A household goods carrier shall only perform hoisting service if the carrier possesses necessary equipment and personnel and conditions are such to properly perform such service without reasonable likelihood of causing damage to any property or endangering the health or safety of any person.

- (b) In the event the customer of a household goods carrier requests hoisting service but the carrier does not possess the necessary equipment or personnel for such service, the carrier may arrange for qualified hoisting service at the customer's expense if it is available. In such circumstances the carrier may advance the amount necessary to perform the hoisting service, which the customer shall reimburse to the carrier upon proof of payment by the carrier. The carrier shall not be responsible for damage to the property of the customer caused by the use of a third-party hoisting service utilized in conjunction with this subparagraph.
- (c) If some or all of a customer's articles requires a hoisting service for delivery, but the transporting household goods carrier cannot perform a hoisting service in accordance with this Rule and cannot arrange for qualified hoisting service at the customer's expense, the carrier may deliver the articles in accordance with the rules for impossible or impractical delivery established in paragraph (2) of this Rule.

(5) Frozen or Refrigerated Goods

A household goods carrier shall not accept for transportation any articles which are required to be frozen or refrigerated while being transported unless

- (b) Subparagraph (a) of this paragraph notwithstanding, a carrier shall wrap, cover, or otherwise protect from damage articles have surfaces that are liable to damage by scratching, marring, or chafing but are of sufficient strength that a carrier can pack other articles against or on top of such articles in a reasonably safe and practicable manner. Such wrapping, covering, or protection shall be provided using furniture pads, covers, burlaps, or other wrappers that are provided by the carrier and a part of the carrier's regular equipment, and shall be included at no additional cost to the customer in the rates for transportation provided by the Department's maximum rate tariff.

(7) Musical Instruments

Musical instruments that require more protection during transportation than the level afforded by the carrier's normal equipment in accordance with subparagraph (6)(b) of this Rule must be packed by the customer in the instrument's designed case or other adequate container that provides reasonable protection for the purposes of transportation.

(8) Mechanical Equipment

Except to the extent otherwise agreed by the customer and household goods carrier, mechanical equipment and other articles of a similar nature including but not limited to appliances, stereo equipment, electronics, power tools, and any other articles the surface of which can be reasonably protected by the carrier's regular equipment in accordance with subparagraph (6)(b) of this Rule must have all motors, mechanical parts, loose accessories and ornamentation securely fastened, bolted, or tied down by the customer in a manner that can reasonably be expected to prevent loss, damage, or impairment of functions while being transported or handled by the carrier.

(9) Delivery to a Warehouse or Storage Facility by Customer Request

A customer may request that a carrier deliver articles to a warehouse or storage facility. In such instances:

- (a) The location of the warehouse or storage facility shall be considered the destination, and the customer or carrier shall designate that location as the destination on the bill of lading and freight bill as required;
- (b) The articles shall be stored at the warehouse or storage facility in the name of the customer subject to a lien for transportation charges and other charges authorized by the Department's maximum rate tariff;
- (c) The carrier may supply containers, cartons, pads, and other materials for the customer's use for the articles in storage at costs not to exceed those provided by the Department's maximum rate tariffs; and
- (d) In accordance with Rule 570-38-3-.17(9), the carrier's liability with respect to such articles shall cease upon the unloading of the articles at the warehouse or storage facility.

(10) Third-Party Services Ordered by Carrier at Specific Request of Customer

A carrier shall, at the specific written request of its customer, make reasonable attempts to arrange from a third party for any services that said carrier is incapable of providing or prohibited from providing but which are necessary for the satisfactory completion of a shipment the carrier has been contracted to provide. In such circumstances,

- (a) The customer shall be responsible for actual charges assessed for any such service to the extent the customer directs the carrier to obtain such service from a third party and the carrier does so arrange;
- (b) The carrier shall not be responsible for the quality of products furnished, services performed, or damages to property or premises as a result of engaging any such third party; and

570-38-3-.06 MAXIMUM RATES ESTABLISHED BY THE DEPARTMENT

- (1) The Department shall establish a maximum rate tariff applicable to carriers transporting household goods in this State.

- (2) The maximum rate tariff established by the Department shall be available to household goods carriers at the Department's website, and the Section shall make available to household goods carriers a copy of the maximum rate tariff upon reasonable request.
- (3) In accordance with the Department's authority under O.C.G.A. § 40-1-8(c)(1), the maximum rate tariff established by the Department pursuant to this Rule may include and impose upon household goods carriers additional rules, regulations, restrictions, duties, and other provisions relevant to the operation of household goods carriers and their compliance with the maximum rates established by the Department. To the extent that a maximum rate tariff includes any such rules, regulations, restrictions, duties, and/or other provisions, it shall be adopted by administrative order in accordance with the requirements of O.C.G.A. § 40-1-8(c)(1).
- (4) At least 30 days prior to any change in the maximum rate tariff, the Department shall make available a copy of the proposed revised tariff to household goods carriers and the public and shall conspicuously note thereupon the expected effective date of the revised tariff. The Department shall provide for a method by which household goods carriers and members of the public may comment upon the revised proposed tariff and may, but shall not be required to, make modifications to the proposed revised tariff in response to such comments. The Department may, but shall not be required to, modify the effective date of the proposed revised tariff in response to comments received and modifications made to the proposed revised tariff.
- (5) No household goods carrier shall charge a rate higher than the rates prescribed by the Department's maximum rate tariff for any services or products provided. A carrier which violates this rule is subject to adverse action pursuant to Rule 570-38-1-.09.

Authority: O.C.G.A. §§ 40-1-8; 40-1-54; 40-1-101; 40-1-118; 40-1-119

570-38-3-.07 RULES PERTAINING TO APPLICATION OF MAXIMUM RATE TARIFF

Household goods carriers subject to the Department's Maximum Rate Tariff ("tariff") shall be subject to the following rules:

- (1) Method for Determining Distances Relating to Rates or Fares
 - (a) To the extent the tariff contains rates based upon travelled or projected mileage, the applicable distance used to calculate charges based upon that rate shall be determined by use of any of the following sources:
 1. Google Maps or a similar internet-based mapping service which provides the shortest driving directions;
 2. Rand McNally mileage & routing software or a similar mileage and routing software for motor carriers which provides the shortest driving directions for commercial motor vehicle operators; or
 3. Upon written approval from the Department, any other source when the methods provided in subparagraphs (1) and (2) are not available or not feasible for use.
 - (b) When, at the specific request of a customer, a carrier travels a route that results in mileage that exceeds that calculated under subparagraph (a) of this paragraph, said carrier may use the actual mileage travelled to calculate charges based upon actual or projected mileage. In addition, such carrier may add up to a 10% surcharge to such rate if the transportation of the shipment could have been accomplished over a shorter distance without unreasonable risk of damage or loss to the customer's or other property and use of such shorter route was otherwise feasible.

(2) Disposition of Fractions of Cents and Hours

- (a) When application of the tariff will result in a charge to a customer which includes a fraction or portion of one cent, that fraction or portion of a cent shall be rounded down to the nearest cent if it is less than one half of a cent or up to the nearest cent if it is one half of a cent or more.
- (b) When calculating rates and charges based upon time, the following rules shall apply to periods of time less than an hour to which rates and charges are to be calculated:
 - 1. Actual time spent of 15 minutes or less shall be charged as one-quarter of an hour;
 - 2. Actual time spent of more than 15 minutes but no more than 30 minutes shall be charged as one half of an hour;
 - 3. Actual time spent of more than 30 minutes but no more than 45 minutes shall be charged as three quarters of an hour; and
 - 4. Actual time spent of more than 45 minutes but less than 60 minutes shall be charged as one hour.

(3) Determining Charges Based Upon Hourly Rates for Transportation

- (a) Except as provided in subparagraph (b) of this Rule, the time charged in accordance with the hourly rates for transportation shall begin with the arrival of the vehicle(s) and personnel at the designated origin or pick-up location and shall end with the completion of all of the carrier's services at the final destination or drop-off point.
- (b) A carrier charging a customer in accordance with the Department's hourly rates for transportation shall be entitled to charge a customer for up to one hour of travel time to a service location at a rate not to exceed the applicable hourly rate for transportation established in the Department's maximum rate tariff.
- (c) A carrier who communicates to a customer that a certain number of vehicles and personnel will be used to perform transportation and services relating to a shipment shall not be entitled to charge a customer at rates corresponding to a larger number of vehicles or personnel unless the carrier receives written authorization to do so from the customer prior to the commencement of services and/or transportation at the increased rate(s).
- (d) Household goods carriers subject to this Chapter which are utilizing the hourly rates for transportation in the Department's maximum rate tariff are authorized to require customers to commit to a minimum of two hours of services governed by such hourly rates on non-holiday weekdays and a minimum of three hours of services governed by such rates on weekends and state or federal holidays.
- (e) Rates for ancillary non-transportation services performed by a carrier at the request of a customer shall not exceed the hourly rates for transportation described in the Department's maximum rate tariff if the transportation of the shipment involved is also governed by those rates.

(4) Minimum Weight When Utilizing Weight and Distance Rates

Except as otherwise provided by law or in these Rules, a household goods carrier transporting any shipment of household goods weighing less than 1,000 pounds is authorized to use a constructive shipment weight of up to 1,000 pounds for the purposes of calculating charges for said shipment using the weight and distance tariff rates.

(5) Determining Weight of Household Goods for Transportation

- (a) To the extent that a household goods carrier is required to determine the weight of articles in order to apply a rate or charge a customer in accordance with the Department's maximum rate tariff, the following procedure shall be used by the carrier:
1. A tare weight of the vehicle(s) which will transport the articles in question shall be calculated by having the vehicle weighed prior to the transportation or loading onto the vehicle of the articles. The vehicle(s) shall be weighed while unoccupied, with a full gasoline tank or as close to a full tank as possible. In accordance with subparagraph (e) of this Rule, tare weights shall include the weight of any articles being transported during the same trip that do not belong to the customer for whom a net weight is being calculated.
 2. After the vehicle has been loaded with the customer's articles, a gross vehicle weight shall be determined by weighing the vehicle(s) again prior to delivery of the articles.
 3. The net weight of the articles shall be determined by subtracting the tare weight from the gross weight. This net weight shall be used for the purposes of applying rates and charges based upon the weight of the customer's articles.
- (b) Vehicles weighed for the purposes of determining their tare weight or gross weight shall contain all blankets, pads, chains, dollies, hand trucks, and other equipment needed for the transportation and services contracted by the customer. Such vehicles shall be weighed by a certified weigh-master or weight inspector on a certified scale.
- (c) If no scale conforming to the requirements of this Rule is available at the point of origin where articles are to be loaded upon a household goods carrier's vehicle for transportation or within a 10-mile radius of such point, a constructive net weight may be used for the purposes of determining the weight of the household goods. Such weight shall be calculated at a rate of seven pounds per cubic foot of properly loaded space.
- (d) The gross weight, tare weight, and net weight or constructive net weight of articles transported shall be shown upon the Bill of Lading and Freight Bill pertaining to the transported articles whenever such weights are relevant to the rates or charges applied. All tare, gross, actual net weights, and constructive net weights shall be properly certified to by the person or persons who ascertained such weights. Except in circumstances in which a carrier is authorized to utilize a constructive weight for a customer's articles, a carrier must obtain a weight ticket which attests to the tare and gross weight used to calculate the weight of a customer's articles and such weight ticket must accompany the Bill of Lading and Freight Bill pertaining to those goods.
- (e) As provided for in paragraph (4) of this Rule, a household goods motor carrier transporting any shipment of household goods weighing less than 1,000 pounds is authorized to use a constructive shipment weight of up to 1,000 pounds for the purposes of calculating charges for said shipment using the weight and distance tariff rates.
- (f) Notwithstanding the other requirements of this paragraph, if a household goods carrier estimates that a customer's articles to be transported by a vehicle do not exceed 1,000 pounds, the net weight of those articles may be determined by weighing them independently on a scale that complies with the requirements of this paragraph.
- (g) Notwithstanding the other requirements of this Rule, a household goods carrier shall include the weight of any articles not belonging to a particular customer in the tare weight of the vehicle when calculating the net weight of that customer's articles in any instance in which a vehicle used by a household goods carrier will carry the articles of more than one customer during a trip.

- (h) Notwithstanding the other requirement of this paragraph, a carrier is authorized to utilize a constructive weight for a customer's articles as provided in paragraph (6) of this Rule under the circumstances described therein for the purposes of calculating charges for a shipment using the weight and distance tariff rates.
- (i) A customer may request that one re-measurement each of a vehicle's tare and/or gross weight be taken in the customer's presence and at the customer's expense in accordance with the Department's maximum rate tariff. Such request must be made prior to delivery of the customer's shipment. Following re-weighing, the lowest calculable net weight shall be used for the purposes of applying rates and charges based upon the weight of the customer's articles. If, after re-measurement, the original net weight is still the lowest calculable net weight, or if the difference between the original and lowest calculable net weight is less than 500 pounds for shipments with a net weight of 5,000 pounds or less or 2% or less for shipments with a net weight of more than 5,000 pounds, the carrier shall be authorized to charge the customer a reweighing charge in accordance with the Department's maximum rate tariff.

(6) Display of Vehicle Cargo Space; Constructive Shipment Weights for Fully Occupied or Reserved Vehicles and Space

- (a) Carriers regulated by this Subchapter shall display in clearly legible text on each side of any vehicle used by the carrier for the purposes of transporting household goods the number of cubic feet of storage space available in or on the vehicle for the purpose of transporting household goods.
- (b) A carrier may accept a shipment for transportation from a customer which, when properly loaded, occupies the entire storage space of a vehicle or which otherwise prevents the transportation of other customers' articles on the same vehicle. In such instances, the carrier is authorized – but not required – to utilize a constructive weight of seven pounds per cubic foot of available vehicle storage space for the purposes of calculating charges for said shipment using the weight and distance tariff rates.
- (c) A carrier may accept a request or order from a customer for exclusive use of a vehicle of a specific or minimum cubic capacity for transportation of household goods. In such instances:
 - 1. The carrier is authorized – but not required – to utilize a constructive weight of seven pounds per cubic foot of available vehicle storage space for the purposes of calculating charges using the weight and distance tariff rates;
 - 2. If the capacity of the ordered vehicle 1,000 cubic feet or less, the carrier is authorized but not required to utilize a constructive weight of 7,000 pounds for the purposes of calculating charges using the weight and distance tariff rates; and
 - 3. If, at the time for loading the shipment in question, the carrier does not have available a vehicle of the capacity ordered by the customer, the carrier may substitute a vehicle or vehicles of an equivalent or greater capacity but may not utilize a larger capacity for the purposes of calculating a constructive weight than that originally ordered by the customer.
- (d) A carrier may accept a request or order from a customer for exclusive use of a portion of the capacity of a vehicle for the purposes of transporting household goods. Such requests or orders may be made in units of 100 cubic feet. In such instances,
 - 1. The carrier is authorized – but not required – to utilize a constructive weight of 700 pounds per 100 cubic feet of space ordered for the purposes of calculating charges using the weight and distance tariff rates; and

2.If the capacity of the space ordered is 300 cubic feet or less, the carrier is authorized but not required to utilize a constructive weight of 2,100 pounds for the purposes of calculating charges using the weight and distance tariff rates.

(e) A carrier utilizing any of the constructive weights described in this paragraph shall be required to clearly notate on the bill of lading and freight bill the following:

1. That a constructive shipment weight was used in the calculation of charges;

2. That the use of a constructive shipment weight was authorized based upon the complete occupancy of a vehicle / vehicles as described in subparagraph (b) of this paragraph; the exclusive use of a vehicle / vehicles as described in subparagraph (c) of this paragraph; or the reservation of space on a vehicle as described in subparagraph (d) of this paragraph;

3. The calculated constructive weight used for the purposes of calculating charges using the weight and distance tariff rates; and

4. When available, the actual weight of the shipment in question.

(7) Overflow When Utilizing Weight and Distance Rates

When, while transporting or preparing to transport articles utilizing the weight and distance tariff rates, a shipment is so loaded that one or more of a carrier's vehicles are loaded to capacity and an overflow remains which does not require the full capacity of another vehicle, the actual weight of such overflow shall be calculated and added to the combined weight of the total shipment to calculate charges using the applicable weight and distance tariff rates.

(8) Handling and Storage Included in Rates

(a) Except as otherwise provided in these Rules, the rates for transportation shall include the disassembling of set-up pieces of furniture at their pick-up location, the physical handling of all articles in a shipment from their pick-up location to the household good carrier's vehicle for transportation, stowage of same within the vehicle, unloading of goods at the destination location, handling of same to designated spots at the destination location, and the assembly at the destination location of pieces of furniture which the carrier disassembled at the pick-up location. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, a carrier may charge for ancillary services in accordance with Paragraph (3) of Rule 570-38-3-.05 to the extent that the carrier has complied with its duty under subparagraph (a) of that paragraph.

(b) A carrier shall wrap, cover, or otherwise protect from damage articles have surfaces that are liable to damage by scratching, marring, or chafing but are of sufficient strength that a carrier can pack other articles against or on top of such articles in a reasonably safe and practicable manner. Such wrapping, covering, or protection shall be provided using furniture pads, covers, burlaps, or other wrappers that are provided by the carrier and a part of the carrier's regular equipment, and shall be included at no additional cost to the customer in the rates for transportation provided by the Department's maximum rate tariff.
